"The Sunshine Coast is now certainly based in the top 10 cities in Australia in terms of population at 300,000 people that population will double over the next 30 years by 2050, to grow as big as the Gold Coast is today, although it won't be the same configuration – we are talking a substantial city by Australian standards. Innovation, entrepreneurship and a can-do attitude would [sic] be the hallmarks of a place like the Sunshine Coast." BERNARD SALT Futurist and Social Commentator
